AUCALA IS A MAGICAL ISLAND

THAT CAPTIVATES YOU AS SOON AS YOU ARRIVE...

Laucala Island is of volcanic origin and offers unexpected landscapes from untouched mangroves to white sandy beaches, to the centre of the island which showcases mountainous peaks reaching heights of 260 metres all surrounded by lush tropical vegetation.

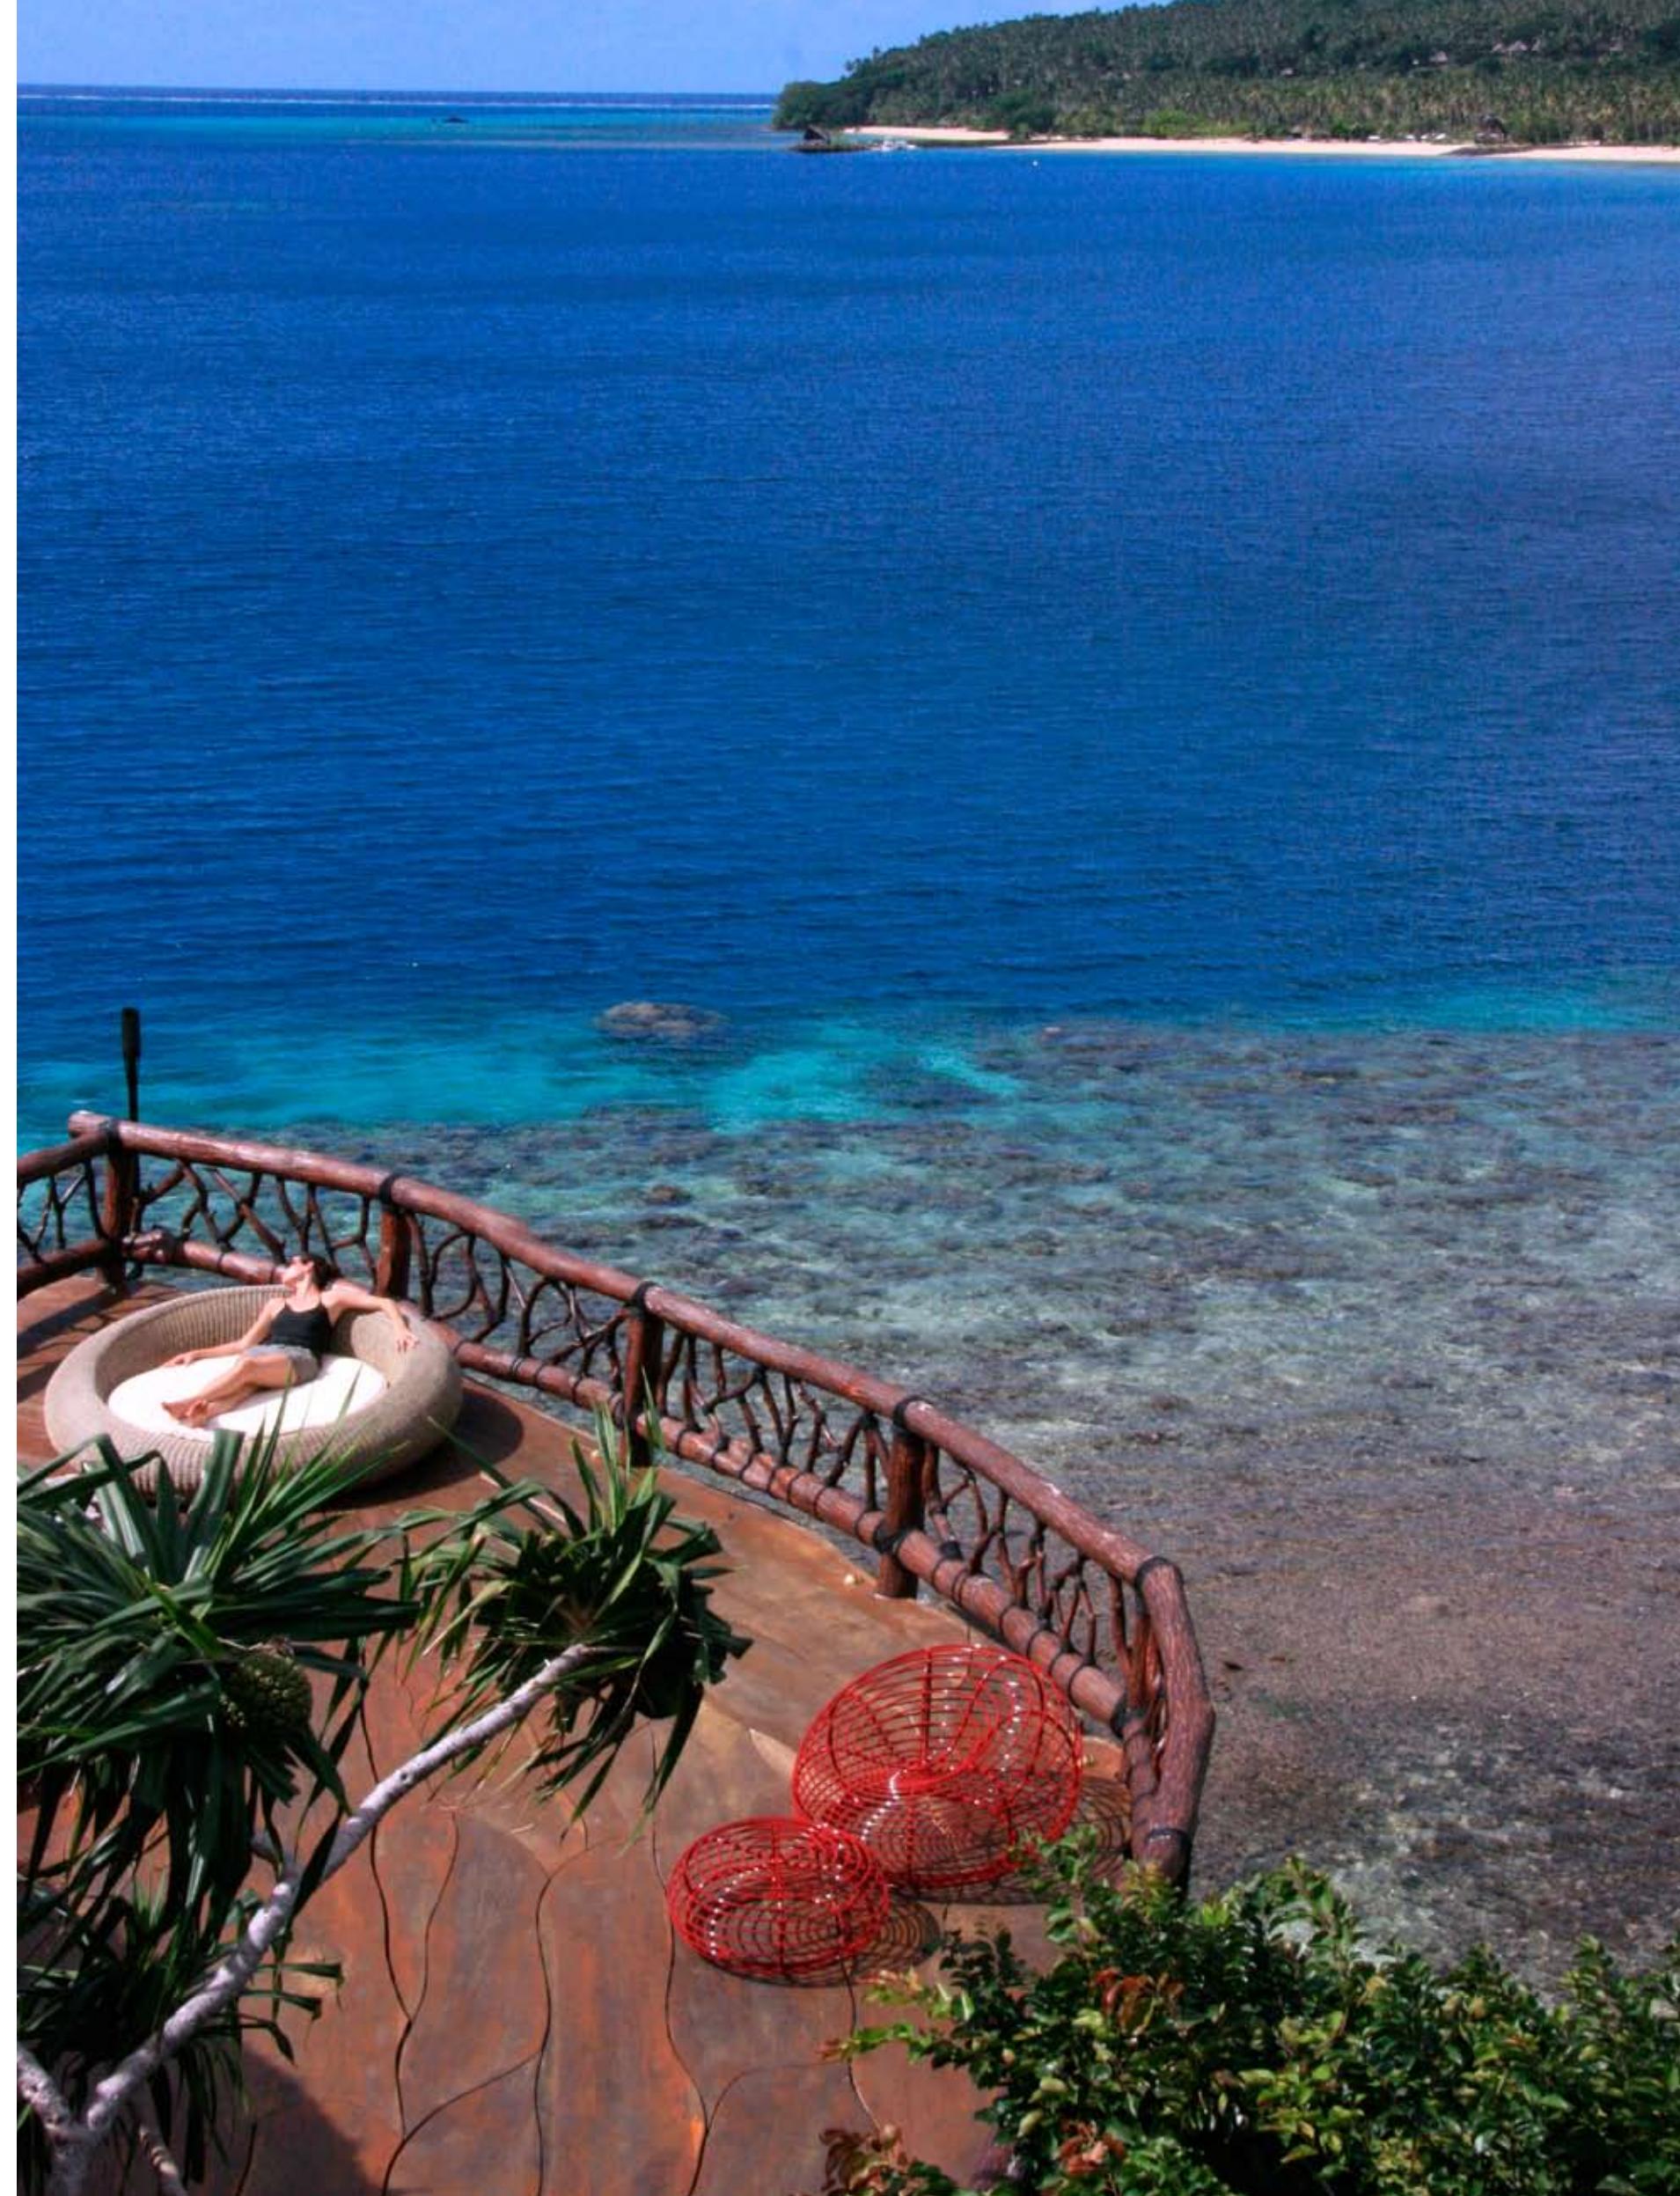

Rich in culture and diversity, the friendliness of the multi-cultural inhabitants are an integral part of the resort. They reflect the soul and spirit of the island. You will be greeted with a warm smile and this smile will continue throughout your stay.

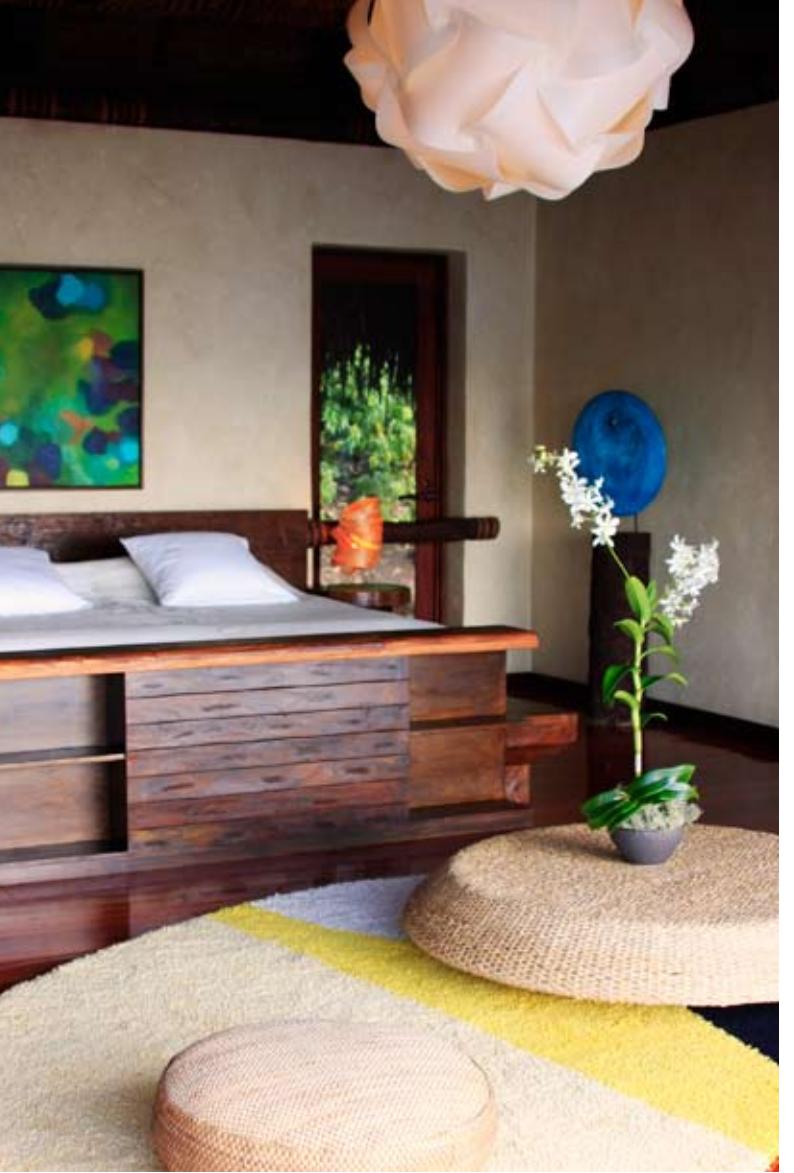

The Peninsula Residence in these images is the epitome of your dream tropical mansion and just one of the amazing residences on Laucala Island. The luxurious multi-level villa, with 600m<sup>2</sup> of private space, is connected by walkways with breathtaking views and caressed by the turquoise waters of the South Pacific lapping up to your own private beach. Arrive by land or sea, this residence is equipped with its own boat landing.

The Seagrass Restaurant with its fine selection of Asian-inspired Laucala cuisine and stunning outlook is situated where your walkway to the Peninsula Residence begins - a short walk to your very own "island within an island".

Choose to stay in your residence and enjoy complete privacy or venture out to savour teppanyaki under the stars...

This page features the stunning Overwater Residence where you can dine under a bure and watch the fish from the multi level decking. At the Overwater Residence your arrival in your own yacht or an excursion to the iridescent world of corals starts right at the private jetty. Relax in the pool carved into rocks as you float above the emera-green lagoon.

The opposite page features one of the Plantation Residences where you are nestled within the coconut plantation and a private white sand beach is steps away from your pool.

LAUCALA has spectacular views out to azure waters where colourful reefs invite you to explore. The architecturally inspiring resort is set exclusively along the northern side of the island, stretching over 4.2 kms, leaving the majority of the island untouched and as nature intended. You can ride Laucala's beautiful horses along pristine beaches and through the plantation, take the boat out gamefishing or go diving in pristine waters.

You can choose your residence and be stunned at the sheer beauty and thought which has gone into each one; with open plan designs that blur the boundary of interior and exterior, and immerse you within the incredible atmosphere of this South Seas island.

The architectural design of Laucala Island Resort requests a seamless transition between built areas and the beauty of the island. Based on traditional Fijian building techniques the resort construction utilizes local timber, thatch and stone. The amazing appearance of the island is enhanced in the form and style of its buildings.

Integration of outdoor and indoor living spaces provides the guest with the luxury of total privacy and exclusivity; using light and space as part of the architecture these residences are exceptionally spacious with spectacular views across the open sea.
