OUR TAKE ON WHAT'S NEW, NOTABLE AND OF INTEREST AROUND TOWN

Not Just Another Diet

Eric Helms, founder of Juice Generation, and actress Salma Hayek have joined forces to bring you the Cooler Cleanse (price on request), a healthy, eco-friendly, juice-based cleansing program delivered right to your door. coolercleanse.com

PURE H<sub>2</sub>O

Filter your water as you drink it with Water Bobble ($9.95), a nifty little bottle with a built-in filter that removes chlorine and contaminants from tap water. It's good for you, your wallet and the environment—a win-win. Kitchen Collection, Tanger Outlet Center, 1770 W. Main St., Riverhead, 727-7867; waterbobble.com

Garden Variety

If you're devoted to making the Earth a more beautiful place, use some of the beautiful products we found in Unlimited Earth Care's showroom and concept store. This fashion-forward garden hose ($40) from Alice Supply Co. proves that you really can make anything cuter. 2249 Scuttle Hole Road, Bridgehampton, 725-7551; unlimitedearthcare.com

CHERRY ON TOP

To build its pieces, Thos. Moser uses sustainable American black-cherry trees, which take 75 to 125 years to mature. But because of its structural design, the hand-carved furniture lasts nearly as long as the trees take to grow. The company also delivers with blankets to avoid unnecessary packing waste. 100 Main St., Southampton, 761-5250; thosmoser.com

UNDER THE SEA

These super-soft tees from Sea NYC (from $42) are made from bamboo and organic cotton so you can go green while looking cool. Exhale, 2415 Main St., Bridgehampton, 212-249-3000; seanycdesign.com

On the Table

Set the table with 100 percent organic cotton placemats (set of four, $96) from Hammocks & High Tea. These pretty patterns use nontoxic inks and are sewn to order, to minimize waste. Naturopathica, 74 Montauk Hwy., East Hampton, 329-2525; hammocksandhightea.com

Zip Line

The Alkemie zipper cuff ($200) is molded from 100 percent reclaimed metals to counteract the harmful effects of overmining. The husband-and-wife design team uses materials such as zinc from abandoned printing machines to create a jewelry collection that's equal parts art and accessory. Blue1, 124 Main St., Westhampton Beach, 288-5830; alkemiejewelry.com

THE GLITTERATI

The glitter classic Toms ($54) are fabulous and socially conscious: Buy one for you, and Toms gives a new pair to a child in need. Flying Point Surf & Sport, 690 Main St., Southampton, 287-0075; toms.com

Organic Revolution

Shop Edun for a chic organic look that helps to alleviate poverty in Africa by providing business for the continent's organic cotton farmers as part of its larger effort to help boost Africa's status in international trade. Otte, 121 Greenwich Ave., NYC, 212-229-9424; edun.com

Boho Bag

The Nina clutch ($80) from Jadetribe is organically dyed. Founder Kimberly Hartman works directly with women in Cambodia, Laos and Thailand and makes sure they're paid fairly for their handwoven fabrics. Gloria Jewel, 2486 Montauk Hwy., Bridgehampton, 613-6034; jadetribe.com

PLAYING WITH FIRE

The elegant Fleur de Lys candles ($14) from Himalayan Trading Post are hand-filled with fragrant soy wax and aren't wastefully packaged with layers of paper and boxes. The Elegant Setting, 31 Main St., Southampton, 283-4747; theelegantsetting.com

Worth Their Weight

Green by name, green by nature: Jewelry designer Rebekah Green uses only 100 percent recycled gold and fair-trade certified gems, pearls and birthstones in all her earrings, like these stunning sparkling dew drops ($350). rebekahgreen.com

STEP IT UP

We love this Willow bootie from Coclico ($415), particularly because walking in it will leave a small carbon footprint: The vast majority of the collection uses veggie-tanned leather and nickel-free hardware. 275 Mott St., NYC, 212-965-5462; coclico.com

INSIGHT

Pristine Paradise

Laucala Island in Fiji balances luxury with nature for a stress-free vacation. The private 25-villa resort island is 85 percent sustainable by bottling its own water, using local feed and producing bath amenities in its very own spa kitchen.
679-888-0077; laucala.com

TIME CHANGE

Save the Earth in style with the Khaki TeamEarth watch ($895), designed by Hamilton and Harrison Ford. A portion of proceeds benefit Conservation International and the TeamEarth project. Tourneau, Walt Whitman Mall, 160 Walt Whitman Road, Huntington Station, 427-2649; hamiltonwatch.com

New Energy

At Sunation Solar Systems' new Southampton showroom, you can find select like-minded contractors to bring you the latest in sustainable energy solutions. Solar electric, energy-efficient insulation and home automation, eco-friendly landscaping and solar hot-water radiant-heat flooring are among the possibilities.
2 Montauk Hwy., Southampton, 750-9454; sunpowersystems.net

LIGHTEN UP

Join your neighbors and go solar. One Block Off the Grid is a free service that helps Hamptonites buy solar panels for their homes by negotiating a 15 percent group discount with Mercury Solar. The service manages the entire buying process from beginning to end and helps you save some green. 516-209-3979; solarlongisland.1bog.org

Berber Shop

Kahina Argan Oil ($36) is 100 percent organic and uses the same ingredient the Berber women of Morocco have used to protect their skin from the sun for centuries. As an added bonus, Kahina Giving Beauty donates 25 percent of profits to these women in an effort to increase literacy, education and women's rights in the area. Urban Zen, 4 Bay St., Sag Harbor, 725-6176; kahina-givingbeauty.com
